THE SIGNAL SERVICE.

mary of the Annual Report Chief Signal Officer Hazen

We are indelted to E. W. French, signal observer at Whipple for the following synopsis of the report of General W. B. Hazen, chief signal officer. Concirring the work of the meteorological division the report says: "Many very important laws have recently been deduced theoretrically and confirmed by observations and experiment."

It is stated that the plan for securing as observers young men qualified by education for the pursuit of scientific studies, and thus raising the standard of the enlisted force of the signal corps, has now been in operation five years, and of the 878 enistments made during that time sinety-seven were college graduates; and it has proved of benefit to the service.

Touching the weather fore acts and special warnings issued during the year, t is stated that the increased demand for these forecasts may be taken as ev." unable to comply with the numerous fee to be a true narrative: 290 c ties and towns in the Uni ed States | he called out: "Is Hoxie in?" and from these points dist ibu ed by At this the general manager looked

> The report suggests that some subtantial reward should be given to the members of the International polar exped tion, and hopes that congress at its next session will recognize the successful work performed by Lieutenant Greeley and his party by providing promotion of the survivors and support for the families of those who lost their lives while serving with this expedition.

Sale of the Olive.

The famous Olive mine, at Olive camp, Pima district, has been part'y old and the money paid. It was owned by Messrs Frank Allison, S. B. Cerley and lames K. Brown, and the two former sold their undivided interests to T. basis of $15,000 for the whole mine.

The Olive is one of the phenomenally ich mines of the camp, and has yielded $32,400. The shaft is only 114 feet diem each receives. deep, from which point druts have been made on the ledge and the shipping ore will charge mileage in accordance with is assorted from the lower grade and the facts. from a strara averaging a foot in width. The quality of the ore may be judged by the fact that the value of the ore do this he will have to steer clear of the shipped has gradually increased from

Mr. Allison owns twelve other claims n the camp, a number of which are leased to parties who are now working them. A car load of ore from one of these claims were forwarded yesterday which sampled here 248 ounces in silver and 23 per cent lead, which proves that the rich ore is not confined altogether to one or two mines. Mr. Rodgers, the purchaser, is a son in-law of Thomas Nickerson, the Boson millionaire railroad man, and the urchase is intended to supplement the output of the old San Xavier mine, upon which smelting works are to be at once erected. It is probable that all the miners of that district will find a market for their ores with the smelting company and thereby save the transportation charges to the Colorado smelters. The camp will now experience a general boom, and the fortunate owners of properties there will have an easy road to affluence, from all of which the city will exact the tribute that naturally belongs to a depot of supplies and a shipping point.-Citizen.

Volapuk.

The plan for a 'universal commercial anguage" originated about five years ago by Herr Schleyer, of Switzerland seems to be meeting with greater favor than has been accorded other projects of the kind. It is reported that Volapuk is already spoken with facility by thous ands of Europeans; knowledge of it i being disseminated by more than fifty societies scattered over England, Germany, Aust ia, Sweden, Holland, Asia Minor and other counties; Volapuk grammars for the use of Hottentets and Chinese, besides all the European nations, are either in the market or in course of preparation; and two reviews, one entirely in Volapuk and the other with a translation on alternate pages are regularly published. The special advantages of the new language is the ease with which it can be learned, eight lessons having enabled a Parisian class to correspond readily with students in foreign countries.
